

Lang in Cambodia

Youth, Education and the Politics of "Development" in Cambodia
June 20 - July 28, 2014 (tentative)
Siem Reap, Cambodia

In Summer 2014, Education Studies Professor Jaskiran Dhillon will lead an international civic engagement program examining contemporary Cambodian politics with a focus on youth and development work.

Earn 8 Credits

In addition to the academic seminar (3 credits), students will study Khmer, Cambodia's national language (2 credits) and complete a fieldwork-based project in partnership with local community organizations in Siem Reap working on issues of education, poverty, healthcare, and housing (3 credits).

Admission Priority

Eugene Lang College students with a 3.3 minimum GPA, 60 or more credits earned before the program start date, prior experience in community development or work with NGOs, and enrollment in LEDU3510/Cambodia in Spring 2014.

Admission is competitive

Fees

Approximately $2,000 + airfare

The program and subsidized fee are made possible by Civic Engagement & Social Justice and Eugene Lang College. For students with additional financial need, applications are encouraged for the Eugene Lang Opportunity Award:

newschool.edu/lang/lang-opportunity-awards

For applications & more information contact:
Lang Study Abroad: langstudyabroad@newschool.edu
Jaskiran Dhillon: dhillonj@newschool.edu

Applications due
February 20, 2014