

Shanghai, China

Lang Study Abroad Summer 2014

Explore China's urbanism with Lang faculty Lei Ping in the "futuristic" city that never slows down its development. Participate in an urban research project on unique communities in this post-socialist urban myth. Examine the targeted population from aspects such as class status, housing condition, and capitalist consumption.

Discover radical urban change and modernization in China through the dynamic global City of Shanghai!

NO CHINESE REQUIRED

EARN SIX CREDITS

- » Walking the City of Shanghai: Between Demolition and Postmodern Kitsch
- » Mandarin Chinese language course (assigned levels)

Competitive fellowships from The New School India China Institute available indiachinainstitute.org/summer-grant

Weekend excursions to Chinese heritage cities.

Cost: $2,905 (2013 estimate) + Airfare

Applications Due February 20, 2014

For more information contact

Professor Lei Ping : pingl@newschool.edu

Lang Study Abroad : langstudyabroad@newschool.edu